Welcome Message from the Chairman

Shankar Shinde
Chairman

Dear Members and partners in Logistics Services Providers

Greetings!

We are happy to organise the long awaited FFFAI convention, which is an important event for FFFAI and is being organised at Chennai.

The recognition to FFFAI comes from the business integrity and working together with Customs department, Government of India as partners in facilitating EXIM trade. This creates a greater sense of responsibility to the Nation and Fraternity we belong to with an opportunity to serve through FFFAI Platform.

The “New Normal “has been discussed a lot in every industry which has changed the dynamics of doing business, as the Trade and Industry which in recent years witnessed great changes in Logistics with different challenges and opportunities and with introduction of Digital Environment compelling to adopt changes by compulsion rather than choice as of now.

It’s time to assess the situation to convert challenges into opportunity for which FFFAI Convention is the platform to get together and discuss with enhancing knowledge through business session with expert speakers from various sectors and business networking partners.

A Customs Broker is the heart of supply chain and everything will evolve around the Customs Broker with the logistics support system to make the value chain successful. Hence, the customs brokers play important role in facilitating and expediting the seamless movement of cargo shipment.

FFFAI highly appreciate the recent initiatives of the Government of India viz ‘PM Gati Shakti’, ‘LEADS Report’, LPPT, ‘Faceless Assessment’, ‘Turant Customs’, ‘SWIFT’, ‘DPD’, AEO, enhancement of ICEGATE etc aiming towards fast cargo clearance, Ease of Doing Business and improvement of Logistics Performance Index of the country as per world standard.

The Government’s Initiatives towards Ease of Doing Business and World Bank ranking have created huge pressure on CB performance. We will be working towards providing support and guidance to our members in coping up with challenges.

Technology will be playing an important role. The business models will change with adaptation of technology and digital marketing. In the forthcoming FFFAI Convention we intend to focus on “Technology adaptation – Way forward for sustainability of successful business model.”

Welcome Message from the Chairman

We must appreciate that all these changes will have a big impact on our internal and external function demanding for change in the organisation model. Emphasis on technology coupled with high domain knowledge and the ability to continual upgrade oneself to remain relevant will be most essential. Technology and domain knowledge will involve continual investments of time and money. It will also result in reducing importance of working on site and shifting process of logistics to the offices.

The huge infrastructure investment and working capital with credit lines competing with MNC will create huge GAP in small, medium and larger organisation to cope with the situation to retain existing businesses and will experience shift over disrupting business. However, in spite of advance technology being introduced in Logistics, the industry would always require human touch due to the complexity of issues and physical presence.

We will also need to grapple with the perception of our clients that we remain Relationship Managers and not Domain Experts. Their expectations of us being in a position to solve every issue without compensation or acceptance of our ability will also need to be addressed by us in the coming period.

Considering the same the theme ‘Logistics – Reshape, Embrace and Surge In The Digital Era’ is indeed very apt as it is the genesis of our existence and growth.

The business sessions based on the above theme will provide delegates with a broad perspective and insight to re-align and re-shape to the changing environment and the multiple changes that will come along with it. Finally, I would like to close my observations stating that the importance and respect will follow if we value our services before offering to customer.

On behalf of the Executive Committee, Office Bearers and Advisors, I look forward to seeing you in Chennai at the FFAI Convention.

Warm regards,

Shankar Shinde

Welcome Message from the Convener

A.V. Vijaykumar
Convener and Immediate Past Chairman

Dear Members of FFFAI Family and Partners of the logistics fraternity,

I take this as an opportunity to approach each of you to enquire about your safety considering the challenges that we have gone through and are going through for the past few years – a situation that no generation would ever have witnessed.

With all the challenges, difficulties, restrictions, lockdowns one profession that defied all constraints and stood out was our logistics industry – to have consistently performed and delivered when the country was locked down. My sincere appreciation of the sterling selfless service rendered by all of you during the COVID 19 crisis. World now realizes the importance and potential of our presence, our performance, and our profession.

We are witnessing rapid, significant and visible changes especially in the recent years. With India becoming a signatory to the Trade Facilitation Agreement there is an accelerated approach by the Indian Government – more so of the Ministry of Finance – to create a seamless, smooth and swift environment for global cross border trade. The pace of trade facilitation is dominant that adopting to such changes is becoming a challenge. Logistics industry is the core center for the success of the trade facilitations and a comprehensive rethink is required in our business environment and business model.

While India is taking strong strides and is emerging as one of the fastest developing economies with huge expectations to be in the first few top slots in the years to come, there is a need match this growth in all support activities. Galloping global trade requires support services to move to top gear, which is possible only with recast business model, digital enablement, innovative solutions, exploitation of technology to be a dominant global success story. We have all these capabilities and more though our only hurdle is to break the shackles of conventional mind set.

With all the uncertainties around us, the only certainty is change and our willingness to accept and adopt to such change so as to remain relevant in every time zone. It is in this challenging backdrop that FFFAI will be holding our 24th Biennial Convention after a pause of a year due to the pandemic.

India is slowly but steadily emerging as a super economic powerhouse and has taken the lead in e mode of business progress especially in our cross-border trade with most of our activities performed from an integrated electronic platform. Thus it is felt that the appropriate theme for our Convention this year should be ‘Logistics – Reshape, Embrace and Surge In The Digital Era’

FFFAI intends to invite the top Ministries and Ministers to be an integral part of the biennial convention to share their thoughts, visions and focus for the future. The iconic event will have very senior officials, bureaucrats and industry leaders to address the gathering. It will be a unique opportunity and a healthy platform for the participants to interact, integrate and involve in meaningful engagements of knowledge sharing. It could also be a trigger off for business opportunities.

May I therefore with all sincerity appeal to you to be a part of this FFFAI Convention by your registration, participation and active involvement. I look forward to receiving each one of you at our own trademark event – the FFFAI Biennial Convention.

Best Regards,

A.V. Vijaykumar
Convener – 24th Biennial Convention

But what is most surprising to know is that the South Indian art of culinary is a blend of all six different tastes including sweet, salt, sour, bitter, pungent and astringent. Besides this, the traditional meal is served on the fresh banana leaf as it is believed from the ancient time that it removes toxins from the food and also because of a sacred belief linked with it. In most of the restaurants too, they put banana leaf on the plate.
